Help Needed for the Bazaar

Come Share in Church Fellowship!
NOVEMBER 11 and 12, 2009

It's time to start getting ready for the Bazaar. We have many wonderful committee heads that need your assistance. We need help in all areas, so if you can volunteer, donate to the silent auction, dig up some items for the white elephant sale, treasure room, book sale or plant sale, we would greatly appreciate your contributions. Preparing chili, vegetable soup or a delicious dessert is another way you can help out. Please be thinking about how you would like to participate and contact one of the following committee heads. Thank you for your support!

Silent Auction

Please keep the silent auction in mind if you can think of anything you would like to donate. The Silent Auction raises the most money during the Bazaar and we are in need of your help - parties, vacation homes, art, furniture, football tickets and special services are all popular items. Please contact Jennifer Fana at (912) 232-0111 with contributions.

White Elephant

As you are cleaning out your home, please remember the White Elephant. We are looking for all your stuff and for volunteers to help the day of the event. We are already collecting items in our Storage Unit on Bull Street if you have anything we can take off your hands. Cranmer has

Contact the editors if you have volunteer opportunities, you would like added to the Eagle.

Books, DVDS, Videos and More!

We love books, but we're not just about books! Bring us roll-overs and replenish your shelves with our GREAT selections. We offer and take CDs, Videos, DVDs, cassettes and books on tape! Again, we can not accept magazines this year. Storage is available now so start cleaning off your shelves. Please contact Margaret Wylly at (912) 786-4316.

Candlelight Dinner Tickets

Go ahead and plan to purchase Candlelight Dinner Tickets. This dinner for twelve prepared and served by your fellow parishioners is sure to be a night to remember. Tickets will be on sale for this magnificent meal in the Garden Mall on Wednesday and Thursday; however, you will also be able to purchase them in advance...more on that soon. The BIG drawing will be held at the end of the Bazaar on Thursday, November 12 at 2:00 – you do not have to be present to win. Don't miss your chance for this dinner of a lifetime prepared by Jane Philbrick and her team. Contact Mildred Derst (912) 925-1442 or Jessica Osborne (912) 898-0202 for tickets.

Canning

Jane's Canners have been working hard this summer preparing delicious items including pepper jelly, peach chutney, peach marmalade, fig preserves, pear marmalade and more. They are still busy cooking every Wednesday and would greatly appreciate any donations of ½ Pint Jars, Sugar, Strawberries, Pears, Peaches, Apples, Mangos, Figs, Pecans, Squash and Bell Peppers. Please contact Jane Pressly with your donations (912) 233-6551.

Frozen Foods

Preparing meals for the Bachelor's Pantry is a great way to volunteer for the Bazaar if you are unable to volunteer during the week. Just make a little extra while cooking your favorite items that freeze well and donate them to the Bachelor's Pantry. Single Serving Dishes or Casseroles big enough to feed a family are needed. Contact Ragnild Ezelle (912) 925-1407 or Robbie Culver (912) 238-4895 for labels and containers.

Soup and Chili

We'll be heating up the big pots on the porch and serving everyone's favorites, homemade soup and chili! The Women of St. John's are wonderful chefs and each has their own recipe for soup and chili, and a miracle happens when they are all mixed together. Please add YOUR own touch to the pot by contributing several gallons of soup or chili for the Bazaar luncheons – or see the recipes on page 4. We need over 135 gallons this year. Please bring your contributions to the refrigerator in Cranmer Hall beginning Monday, November 9th. Please assist our Head Chef's Sherry Holtzclaw (912) 897-3889 and Christiana Turner (912) 898-1810.

Luncheon Food Prep

We are looking forward to delicious shrimp salad, pimento cheese and chicken salad. Needed are all available chicken choppers. For fun and fellowship, please call Leah Brunson (912) 231-8911, Gentry Hand (912) 272-1046 or Lavinia Strong (912) 272-3250.

Luncheon Servers

A large group of volunteers are needed to serve lunch at the Green Meldrim House on both Wednesday and Thursday. This job is fast paced and lots of fun. Please call Lisa Fort (912) 234-2425 to volunteer.

Nun's Nook

The Nun's Nook will be ready for visitors in the Garden Mall and a wonderful selection of religious items will be available. Coffee cups with the Priests "mug shots" were some of last years best sellers. To volunteer or for more information, call Doretha Coy at (912) 232-2961.

Garden Shop

As always, the Garden Shop Committee is busy planning for the best selection of plants, statuary, topiaries, birdfeeders, stepping stones and planters ever! We welcome all suggestions, as we want to make sure to have the item you are looking for. Contributions of "heirloom planters" are especially encouraged. Divisions of Daylilies or Iris as well as usual Camellias or Hydrangeas top the request list. So, as you work in your garden this fall, and have the opportunity to divide any of these, please keep us in mind. If you find you have any extra pots, materials to contribute or if you can suggest a donor, please don't hesitate to contact Coren Ross (912) 897-2381 or Debbie Carson (912) 897-6169.

Babysitting

If you are working at the Bazaar on Wednesday or Thursday, babysitting will be available. Please call Kerri Culver at (912) to reserve your child's spot.

Runners

Volunteers are always needed to run supplies, food, etc. back and forth to various areas of the Bazaar. Please call Carolyn Ezelle (912) 272-9711 to volunteer.

If You Can Not Be There To Help

Obviously not everyone can volunteer during the Bazaar. Please know that your financial donations go a long way towards paying the costs incurred during the Bazaar. Please drop or mail any financial contributions to the Church Office in an envelope directed to Dale Thorpe, our Treasurer. Or call Dale directly at (912) 233-5530. Checks should be made payable to St. John's Holly Days Bazaar.

As a parishioner of St. John's you are encouraged to get involved. Volunteering at the Bazaar is a great way to meet new friends and reacquaint with others. There is a lot to do and volunteers are needed in every area. Please call Carolyn Ezelle, Chair (912) 272-9711 or Leah Brunson, Co-Chair (912) 231-8911 to volunteer or for more information.

The Men's Club Reports

Written by:
General Leroy Suddath
Men's Club President

The Men of St. John's Spring and Summer Events began with the Spring Sports Festival which was highly acclaimed due to the good work of the Golf Director, Charles Williams, and the indefatigable efforts of Father O'Brien in organizing and instituting St. John's first men and women's Tennis Competition.

Charles Williams moved the Golf Competition to the new and exciting venue of "The Club at Savannah Harbor" and was well received by the participants which was evidenced by an extended nineteenth hole celebration by the winners and their fellow celebrants. The Ralston Cup went to Captain Marshall Stone and his superb teammates of Father Curtis Mears, Bill McNeal, Jr. and Will McNeal, III. The Dunbar Cup was taken by the accomplished and long ball hitting Walter Hagan. Closest to the pin was shared by Scott Howard and Dickie Adams. The newly installed Mears putting competition was captured by Justin Watson.

Owing to the good work of Rick Wright, the Tennis Competition was held at the beautiful Tennis Courts at The Landings. To avoid winning the coveted "O'Brien Cup", Father O'Brien

Meet More People

Join our congregation after the 10:30 service for Coffee Hour in the Green-Meldrim House adjacent to the church. After everyone has had their fill of traditional tomato sandwiches and that irresistible coffee and Chocolate Fudge Swirl ice cream concoction, we are quite a chatty bunch. If you are new or looking to meet new people, please introduce yourself; we are always excited to welcome new friends. Of course, help yourself to the tasty morsels. For our regular coffee hour attendees, if you have food you would like to bring, contact the coffee hour chairman listed in the parish paper each week or just bring it to the Green-Meldrim house kitchen before you head into church.

Holly Montford on the New Members Party

As many of you may already know, I am a new parishioner at St. John's and am trying to learn a lot about my new church home and its members. I was so proud of myself at coffee hour last Sunday because I got MarCelene Willingham's name right after flubbing up the pronunciation several Sundays in a row! I was also excited to receive a charming invitation from the church's clergy, wardens, and vestry asking me to attend a newcomer's reception at Father Dunbar's home in May.

It sounded quite lovely, but I must admit that I had a little bit of trepidation at being at a gathering with all these distinguished "powers that be" under one roof! Oh dear, I hoped that they would not discover that in my old age, I could no longer recite all the books of the Bible in order as I once did in 6th grade. But as soon as I had crossed through the gates of the rectory, I felt instantly at ease.

One of the things I love about Episcopalians is that "they know how to give a good party" and a grand party it was.... linens, silver, china glasses, and fabulous cocktail food fit for a king. I was graciously received by everyone and made quite a few new friends. The highlight of the evening was enjoying a glass of wine with Father Dunbar and discovering that we had both been practicing Presbyterians. I had kept him sequestered high up on a pedestal in his pulpit in his handsome saintly robes and immersed in his scholarly sermons. What a treat to find out that he is a real man!

The evening flew by. That always happens when you are having fun! I left feeling wonderful and surrounded by a warm glow. Thinking back, I think it was a combination of the heavenly spirit, the effects of some white wine, and the knowledge that I had found a church home full of happy people that I could share my beliefs with.

I suddenly felt that I was where I should be, and maybe it was even "predestined" way back in my Presbyterian past. Thanks again for a delightful evening!

St. John's Youth Fellowship 2009-2010: Expanding the Mission

Written by:
Angie Locke
Jordan Nichols

The mission of St. John's Youth Fellowship (SJYF) is to provide opportunities for the Confirmed youth to serve, worship, and play together, thereby fostering true fellowship in Christ. All Confirmed youth are automatically members of the Youth Fellowship.

The 2008-2009 Youth Fellowship calendar concluded with a Beach Bash at Johnny and Margaret Wylly's on the back beach Saturday, May 16th. The Beach Bash completed a full year of service, worship and fun which characterized the monthly get-togethers and special youth events. From our local missions tutoring at the Downtown YMCA's afterschool program, to sharing worshipful art created in response to Fr. Dunbar's Epiphany talk at the Youth Retreat at New Ebenezer, to playing soccer at Forsyth Park and enjoying the Third Day Concert at the Civic Center, the youth who participated in Fellowship activities were treated to numerous opportunities to serve, worship and just have fun together!

The 2009-2010 Youth Fellowship calendar continues the missions service and activities that were successful this past year and expands our missions work to include not only our own "Shut-in" Parishioners and local YMCA children but also the children in the Kenyan villages supported by Horace and Anne (Howard) Tipton's Planting Faith Ministries. We also are expanding the opportunities for more families and youth to participate in the Fellowship by asking them to host (or co-host) one event on the Fellowship calendar. (Families will choose their event at the AUGUST 7th Pizza and Planning meeting

Acolytes

by Reverend Curtis Mears

Since the early Church, acolytes have been assigned to serve at the altar by assisting the priests and deacons. Here at St. John's, all confirmed young men willing to accept the responsibilities are welcome to serve as Acolytes. After confirmation and training, these men are asked to take their place in assisting the clergy in the liturgy of the Church. This opportunity affords them a deeper appreciation and understanding of the worship of the Church. The duties of our Acolytes begin with carrying the torches, then the banner, followed by the processional crosses. Other duties along the way include lighting and extinguishing the candles, assisting with the Offertory and setting the Altar for Holy Communion. At the pinnacle of responsibility and participation is the position of Thurifer who is responsible for preparing and assisting with Incense.

Acolytes everywhere have a tradition of mild mischief (much to the chagrin of the clergy) and the occasional practical joke aimed at initiating the 'new recruits.' With just over twenty active acolytes, a young man could expect to serve about twenty times a year. The training of acolytes is an ongoing endeavor, but we set aside one Saturday morning for training at the beginning of each school year. This year it is AUGUST 29th, so if you or someone you know are interested in serving as an Acolyte, contact Fr. Mears at the Church Office. We hope all young churchmen of St. John's will take their place as an Acolyte in service to the Church.

Childhood Education

by Caroline Hayes

It is hard to believe Fall is upon us. There has been some fun planning this summer getting geared up for the new church school year.

Mark your calendar for the first day of church school, SEPTEMBER 13th. Keep an eye out for more information, soon to be released about the exciting, new year!

Vacation bible school was a huge success! Everyone had a wonderful time and learned so much. Between vacation bible school and choir camp, we had 58 children enjoying the hard work of 47 adults and teens. Thank you, thank you to everyone who helped out that week. A special thanks goes to Maryan Harrell who created the wonderful week, Dottie Jarvis and Anne Mingeldorff (Maryan's most helpful sidekicks that spent weeks in preparation), and Winslett Watson who spent so much time planning and organizing the amazing crafts the children created all week.

It is always inspiring to watch people use the talents God has given them. Whether it was seeing how amazing the class teachers were at captivating the children while teaching the stories, watching those with strengths in art or music lead the children with ease, or just the loving kindness of mothers and grandmothers as they cared for and guided others with such grace. We are blessed to have so many wonderful members willing to share their gifts.

Please come to Cranmer hall and check out the

Rector's Musings

by: Reverend Gavin Dunbar

Reading the Poets

Who reads poetry any more? Oh, I know many people write it- and some who actually can. (I count among my acquaintances two women who are rather serious and fine amateur poets) People still read popular verse - hymns, and song lyrics. Nonetheless, with the exception of Seamus Heaney's translation of Beowulf, a best-seller in 1999, the last real poet who consistently commanded the best-sellers lists was Rudyard Kipling, who died in 1941. My own theory is that it is precisely the rise of mass-market pop music - coming into its own in the '20's and '30's just when modernism made poetry opaque to general readers - which swallowed up the general market for poetry.

Not that song lyrics do not sometimes attain at least quasi-poetic quality. (To Ellen Bolch's delight, Bob Dylan recently won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry, although I myself would have awarded the palm to Smokey Robinson: "I've got sunshine/On a cloudy day/When it's cold outside/I'm in the month of May/I'll guess/you'll say/what could make me feel this way/My girl...") Yet in virtually all cases, the words do not stand alone, as true poetry does: they depend upon the music, to which, in the end, they are secondary.

I am an impatient, greedy reader, with a tendency to skim, which does not work for poetry. (One might say it is a sensibility shaped by pop music.) Reading verse requires I deliberately slow down and dig in, usually in fairly large chunks. And when I do, the pleasure is something I simply do not get from prose. If this sounds like something you might like to do too, I recommend starting with Paul Keegan's superb paperback anthology, the Penguin Book of English Verse. A few years ago, I spent much of a summer reading it straight through, and it was a revelation.

Green-Meldrim Restoration Update

Written by Anna Smith

Design work for the restoration of the Green-Meldrim House parapet and roof has steadily progressed since this spring, with the signing of the contract with the National Park Service for the $400,000 Save America's Treasures grant. The Federal Government finances this grant with funds generated by the sale of oil leases, with the logic that the exploitation of one uniquely American resource should help restore other uniquely American resources.

A condition of the grant is that St. John's Church provide matching funds for this enterprise. The restoration of the Green-Meldrim House is presently the ECW's primary community outreach focus. A National Historic Landmark, the house has played an important part in our nation's history, duly noted by countless historians. Additionally, it has a very special place in the hearts of our Parish family and all Savannahians.

Due to the monetary amounts we will be seeking, we now appeal to those within and outside our Parish to consider the Green-Meldrim Restoration in their planned giving. The roof and parapet work is in fact only the first phase of a larger whole which will include, among many things, both exterior ironwork and the interior finishes and services.

St. John's Church now has established a dedicated account. Your tax deductible check may be made out to the "St. John's Church, Savannah" with "Green-Meldrim Restoration" on the memo line and dropped by/sent to the Church Office at 1 West Macon Street, Savannah, GA 31401.

Please remember the restoration fund accounts in the coming months. Our beloved Parish House and Rectory need your help.

magnanimously stepped aside in favor of Bob Jarman and John Wylly who will go into the record book as the winners.

Finally, I hope all the Men of St John's will put SEPTEMBER 17th on their calendar to attend the Annual Meeting when we will usher in our new Officers. The event promises to be an exceptional one with a great dinner and, hopefully, Jack Kingston will be giving us a report on the Washington Scene. This, of course, is contingent upon his availability at the time. We will keep you posted. Hope to see you there.

Happy 103rd Birthday to Nancy Windler

We have a "young" lady in our Parish who will be turning 103, on SEPTEMBER 23rd- Nancy Lorraine Windler (Mrs. Robert A. Windler). This petite, vivacious and always beautifully dressed St. John's member moved from her Ardsley Park home to Columbus, Ohio in 2001 to be near her only son who resides there. Although living alone, Nancy makes arrangements to get to church, go shopping and always keeps up with family, friends and the latest news. She misses St. John's, especially the fun of the bazaar where she priced and sold jewelry for many years. Her love of life, determination and cheerfulness are an inspiration to those who know and love her. She still loves her church (St. John's) and would enjoy hearing from the friends she left here in Savannah.

Jordan Nichols will be our first Coordinator and will maintain an email account (sjcouthfellowship@yahoo.com) and a private Facebook account (which will be by invitation only or in response to a request to the email account). Youth and youth leaders will be able to post pictures and "blogs" from our events and access the annual calendar with all its details.

We pray that all Confirmed youth at St. John's will avail themselves of the upcoming opportunities to grow in our fellowship in Christ through serving, worshiping, and playing together!

*St. John's Youth Fellowship Missions:
Serving & Giving from the Downtown "Y" to Kenya*

Last school year, the youth of St. John's volunteered over 70 hours with the children in the Preschool and Afterschool Programs at the historic "Downtown YMCA" on May Street. We provided both tutoring and mentoring to the students (ages 3 through 12). Our goal was to establish on-going relationships in which we shared the Gospel through concrete actions and spontaneous conversations. We gathered bookbags and school supplies for the students in September and donated Christmas toys for the YMCA's "Santa's Toy Shop" giveaway at Christmas.

SJYF preparing Valentines for our "Shut-ins"

At our February Fellowship gathering, we met in Cranmer Hall to make special "Biblically encouraging" Valentine's for our own Parishioners who live in assisted living facilities and nursing homes. We spent eight hours on Valentine's Day delivering our Valentine's Cards and visiting with our Parishioners who were very excited that we came to call.

This next year, we plan to continue tutoring and mentoring with the children at the May Street YMCA. We are really looking forward to spending time with this special group of children! Again, we will create Valentine's for our "Shut-in" Parishioners and spend time visiting with them. We also plan to expand our efforts in accord with the Great Commission. From our local community, we will extend our giving to the villages in Kenya served by Horace and Anne (Howard) Tipton's Planting Faith Ministries. At the Missions meeting with the Tiptons on Thursday, July 16, it was decided that we would fill up two large suitcases with school supplies for the village children. Groups within our Church have been supporting Planting Faith Ministries, and we want to contribute to their mission also. Their mission is to spread the Gospel by helping subsistence farmers to come together through local Churches to organize themselves into sustainable farmers with marketable crops. Below is a list of the school supplies that are needed by the children in the YMCA programs and the village children in Kenya. We are thankful for these opportunities to help spread the Gospel by giving and serving.

Editors' Ramblings

Dear Parish,

We were so impressed with Vacation Bible School this year. The program which included skits written by Maryan Harrell and performed by our talented youth, amazing art headed up by talented Winslett Watson, and music we are still singing led by Jane Pressly and Dottie Jarvis was amazing, but what also impressed us was the ease with which it was done! Caroline Hayes reeled in an unbelievable number of volunteers, and there seemed to be helping hands everywhere. With so many people working together, the volunteers had as much fun as the children. It showed us that if we could all take an hour or so a week out of our busy lives and contribute to the church, we could accomplish so much and truly have a great time. Sometimes we hear the same names over and over as leading event after event. Wouldn't it be great if we all chipped in and offered our services instead of relying on these same people to keep our church running? What would happen if we called to help instead of leaving the burden on someone else to call us! Let's give it a whirl and see what wonderful things happen, Lavinia & Cathy

P.S. Our next Eagle deadline is Friday, OCTOBER 9th, so mark your calendars and contribute!
